

MIRAVALLE COMMUNITY COUNCIL

THIS COLLABORATION GAVE US NEW UNDERSTANDING OF WHAT CONSTITUTES DESIGN.

The collaboration with design professionals gave us new understanding of what constitutes design and helped with the preparation of a more integrated community development plan. Fresh perspectives brought by the urban practitioners complemented the work that had already been carried out, generating a wider understanding of what constitutes design from an architectural point of view, and the need for adequate planning - of time, resources and expectations - before starting the building process.
